

The Isaan Record Welcomes New Editor

written by กองบรรณาธิการ | August 29, 2012

In May 2012, Glenn Brown and Lizzie Presser, the founding editors of the Isaan Record, wrote you a goodbye note. We had left Thailand and were looking for ways to keep our project alive. We're writing now to welcome on a new editor, Caitlin Goss, who will be taking over at the Isaan Record in October 2012.

With a grant from the Davis/Latch Memorial Fund, a philanthropic activity of the Foreign Correspondents' Club of Thailand, Caitlin plans to continue where we left off. Caitlin has spent nearly two years in Northeast Thailand, focusing on environmental policy, development issues, and community organizing. Alongside a new team of Thai and American writers, she'll be reporting on political shifts, development, community rights, education and more in the region. If you want to pitch a story or join her team, contact her at editor@theisaanrecord.co.

Warmly,
Glenn Brown and Lizzie Presser
